SIR,

With reference to your official Memorandum No. 1036 of 12th January 1894, forwarding an extract of a memorial presented to the Dewan by the inhabitants of Arsikere, praying for an immediate increase to the strength of the Police at Arsikere, I have the honor to submit herewith copy of letter No. 538 of the 11th instant from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan representing the urgent necessity for an additional staff of 4 Constables for the Arsikere town, pending sanction to the general Scheme of increase to the Police Force of the whole District.

I am personally aware that the Police of the Hassan District and that of Arsikere in particular, is very much undermanned and I beg strongly to recommend that immediate sanction may be accorded to the small increase of staff now applied for. The reasons being fully set forth in the accompanying copy of the Deputy Commissioner's letter, it is needless for me to repeat them here.

Of the 4 Constables to be sanctioned, 2 may be of the 1st grade on Rs. 7 and 2 of the 2nd grade on Rs. 6. A proposition Statement is herewith submitted.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most Obedient Servant,

Inspector General
of Police.

From

To,

The Inspector General of Police
in Mysore

Sir,

As called for in your remarks on the Police Assistant Superintendents' Diary for the week ending 17th December 1893, soliciting sanction for the temporary appointment of 4 extra constables to the Arsikere Head station, pending sanction of Government to the general scheme of increase to the Police Force of the District, I have the honor to state that in no other Taluk of the district is the paucity of men so keenly felt as in Arsikere, for various reasons which have been brought to notice from time to time since the year 1890. The existing complement of the Arsikere Head station is extremely inadequate, almost nomina so far as the Town is concerned. The Town is growing in importance from its being a central Railway station and is receiving a daily batch of persons of ill repute who tax the vigilance of the Police in no small degree and also from its proximity to jungle tracts, affords shelter to criminal tribes who with facility commit burglaries and other offences of a more heinous nature in and around the town, and, after the raid, betake themselves to their retreats only to take train perhaps at the next or the third station and thus place themselves beyond the reach of the local Police even before they can think and be on the right track, and therefore the addition to the present strength of the Head station is an obvious and imperious necessity which, if not immediately attended to, will prove highly detrimental to the efficient grappling with crime and ultimately work out most unfavorable results reducing detection to a very unfavorable proportion. If the numerical deficiency is not promptly remedied, I apprehend that no intelligent work can be expected from an already overworked and physically exhausted and helpless staffs.

Since the commencement of the official year, there have been three cases of house-breaking in the town of Arsikere involving a loss of property worth about Rs 228, and owing to the inadequacy of the strength, not one of them has been detected as also two cases of theft in which 186 Rs worth of property has been stolen — a circumstance tending to encourage the wrong-doers and induce them to commit graver offences if the local staff is not effectively strengthened to enable it, firstly, to act on the wholesome principle of prevention is better than cure and, secondly, if any offence be committed, to feel itself equal to the emergency and organize detective measures and run down the offenders. From information gathered there is no doubt that most of these burglaries &c in town and adjoining villages are perpetrated by professional characters coming to Town by railway. The Town has therefore to be better watched for which no remedy is possible except that of strengthening the staff.

It may not be out of place for me to append extracts from the representations made from time to time urging on the necessity to increase the strength of the Head Station and the

Taluk of Arsikere in general. 8

In letter No. 804 dated 21st February 1890, it is reported.

In consequence of these changes, increased vigilance is necessary on the part of the police and the present number of constables is insufficient.

- - - - - - - - - - -

I therefore forward the Amildar's representation for your favorable consideration and request that you will be pleased to sanction 4 additional constables to the town.

Again in letter No. 139 dated 31st July 1891, it is urged.

- - - - - - - - - - -

- - - Since the commencement of this year, burglaries have been rife in the Taluk and about half a dozen of such offences have been committed in the Town itself and not one of them has been detected.

There is a large influx every day of persons whom the Police cannot regard with any degree of indifference . . . . . .

. . . . . Added to these, there is the physical peculiarity of the Taluk which, for the most part, abounds in jungle and hilly tracts affording ample scope for lawless acts of criminal tribes . . .

It is therefore requested that an extra Force of one Jamadar and 6 constables may be sanctioned for Arsikere at the earliest opportunity.

In letter No. 254 A dated 26th August 1892 . . . . . .

. . With the present number of the Police in the Taluk, supervision of the outlying stations and investigation and detection of important cases cannot Effi-ciently be managed . . . . . Very great and pressing necessity exists for one Jamadar and one Duffedar to Arsikere and as regards the constables, the lowest number which is absolutely necessary is 8 for both Arsikere and Banawar stations.

The memorandum shows that the No. of gangs to be watched is as large as 845 . . . . . .

In the Police Assistant Superintendents' Diary for the week ending 5th March 1893, it has been brought to notice —

. . . . Arsikere is one of the Railway terminal stations and as such, there is a large influx of persons of doubtful character. Besides, Woddurs and others have come and settled in the vicinity for work on the Railway. It is not possible for one man to — supervise the town and prevent the commission of crimes and when constables attached to the Head station are sent out on their beat duty, there is no other constable to spare for the town duty . . . . . .

I would therefore strongly urge the necessity of early sanction to the additional force applied for in Deputy Commissioner's No. 254 dated 26th August 1892.

In letter No. 678 dated 12th April 1893, it has been urged —

. . . . I may add that the increase to the present force is urgently needed as the supervision of outlying stations and patrol of high roads and detection and investigation of cases cannot efficiently be carried out.

Lastly in the Assistant Superintendent's Diary for the week ending 17th December 1893, it has been represented —

It has been found impossible to keep peace in Kasba Arsikere with the present meagre staff. Cases of House-breaking and theft now and then occur and none of them sees the light of day. The whole supervising staff has been changed with the hope of securing better results. Though Kasba is sparsely peopled, still as the houses are scattered and a there are many temporary residents who commit these nefarious acts and disappear by rail which affords them great facility for disposing of the stolen property, there is every opportunity for committing burglaries. Pending

nction to the general scheme
: increase to the Force by Govern
ent, I would earnestly beg at sanction may be accorded r the entertainment of 4 Conables temporarily for Arsikere
nsba —

It will be seen from the ove extracts, what great and ressing necessity exists for extra ce in Arsikere, under what isadvantages the Head Station olice have been working and w many criminals have caped from the clutches of w which otherwise would have ted out condign punishment
d contributed to stem the tide crime and inspire the local sidents and indirectly the genera
iblic with feelings of confidence
d security and thus raised
e tone of the local police service

I therefore respectfully urge dgq with the Police Superintendent, necessity for the immediate sanct of 4 constables to the Arisikere & station pending sanction to the general increase already praye for.

I have &c
